City-Wide Bandjam Blasts Bustling Year

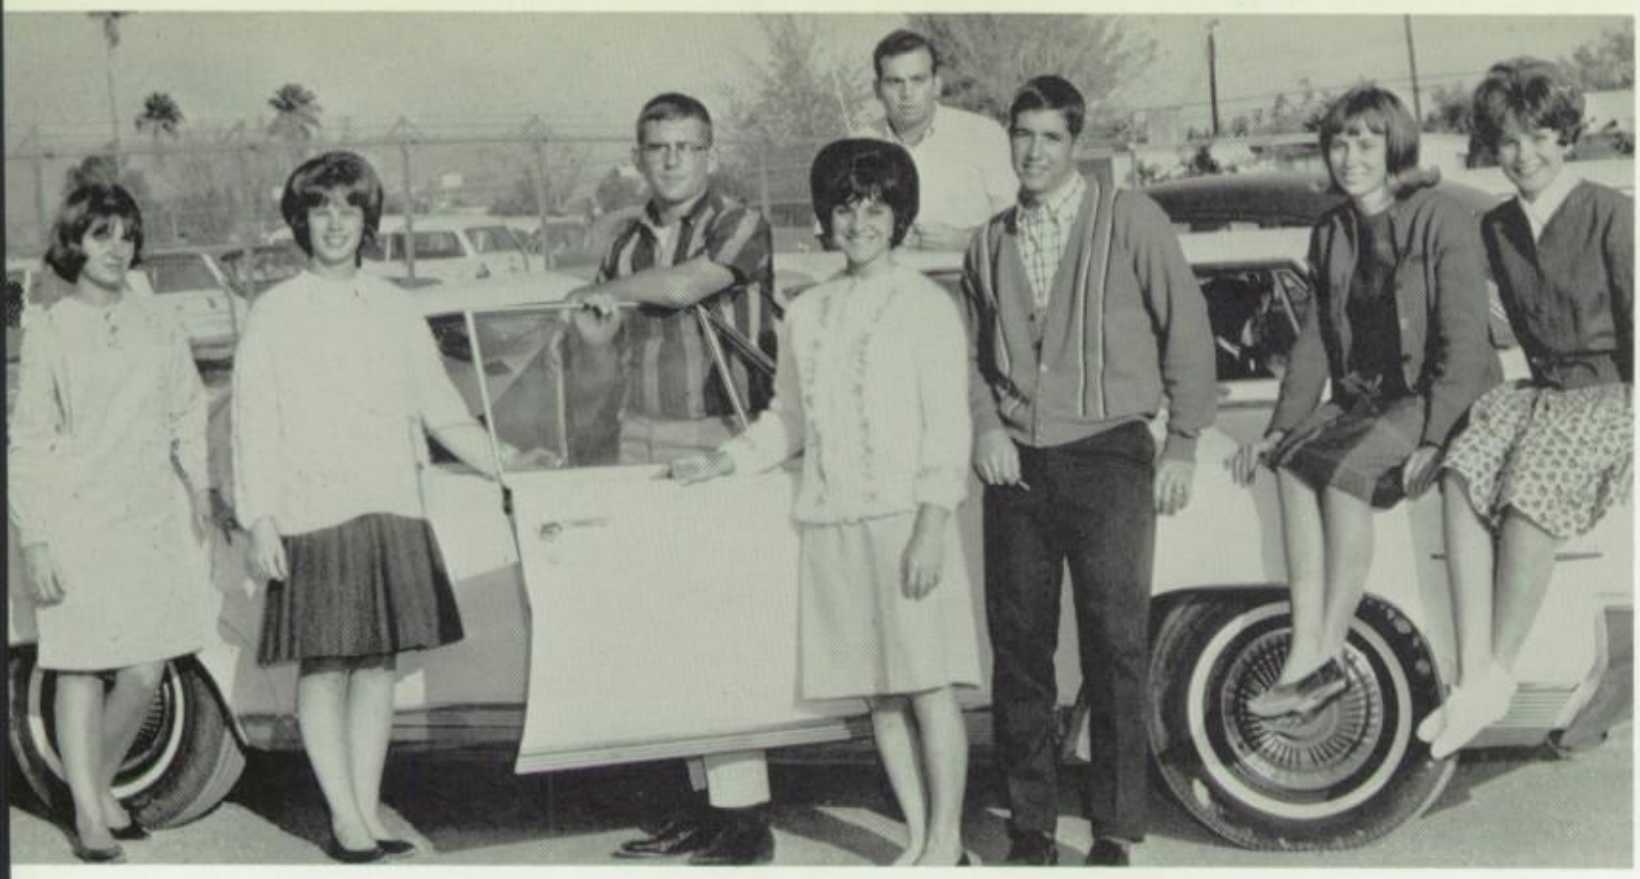
"To the best of my ability," solemnly pledges Bob Knickerbocker as President Taft Jacob administers the oath of Vice President to him.

Salpointe's first city-wide Bandjam scored a tremendous success due to the untiring effort of its Student Council led by President Taft Jacob. The Playboys, Hustlers, Castaways, and Panics personified the magnetism which drew approximately 1500 teenagers to the Salpointe gymnasium.

The Student Council has also been extremely busy initiating other projects. Due to its energetic backing, the El Cees, led by Bob Knickerbocker, has emerged as a vitally active and worthwhile club.

Fiery El Cees led by Joe Fitzpatrick noisily parade spirit banner through resounding corridors.

Pulsating beat and invigorating tempo of Salpointe's amazingly successful city-wide Bandjam stimulates youth in lively stomping.



Gleaming white "Bonneville" furnishes unaccustomed luxury for convention-bound Student Council members.

Governmental Activities Spark Patriotism

To become better citizens, Salpointers practice overnmental leadership.

After a month's campaign, the state of Salpointe anded Lyndon Johnson a landslide victory in its irst national mock election.

Locally, Student Council members shared their xperiences with other school leaders at the Student Council Convention.

Nine delegates from Salpointe participated in he Model United Nations, debating the issues of ed China and Peace-keeping forces.

Avid Harrison Backers Hustle to Victory

Jubilant cheers greeted Senior class president, Jim Thomson, as he "modestly" accepted the chair of honor beneath the golden record of victory at the end of the "Beatle Magamania."

The class of '65, following in its own victorious footsteps, led the school to a record-breaking profit of $10,000. Taking first place with ease, the Seniors, led by Beatle George, returned 173% of their quota. Ringo, the Junior mascot, rolled into second place at the 131% mark. With 121% returns, the Sophomore mascot Paul finished third. Fourth place winner John, led Frosh salesmen to 105% of their quota.

"We're going to win, by George, we're going to win," assuredly claims Senio President Jim Thomson.

Father Randal "heads" Beatle Magamania.

Blasting drums, twangy guitars, and shaggy wigs establish the Beatle theme fo Salpointe's Magazine Drive.

"I just love off-campus," mumbles Melody Leone as she ravenously devours a mouth-watering Hogie Burger. Munching silent agreement, Virginia Lent and Pat Steffen reflect the delights of off-campusing.

Proud Seniors Flaunt Privileges

Senior Day awes prospective University of Arizona freshmen Mary Jo Stewart, Pat Hannan, and Suzi Schatteles.

"Make way for the mighty senior," echoed clangorously through onion-infested and perfume-infiltrated corridors as arrogant upperclassmen capitalized on their most anticipated senior privilege.

Off-campus personifies an equally welcomed privilege zestfully enjoyed by all seniors. Every Thursday such hangouts as the Hogie House, Yankee Doodle, Frostop, and Art's vibrate actively and enthusiastically with vital, animated sounds of Salpointe upperclassmen.

Incapacitated seniors Bill Steen and Eddie Ronstadt are grandly transported by beanie-topped frosh.

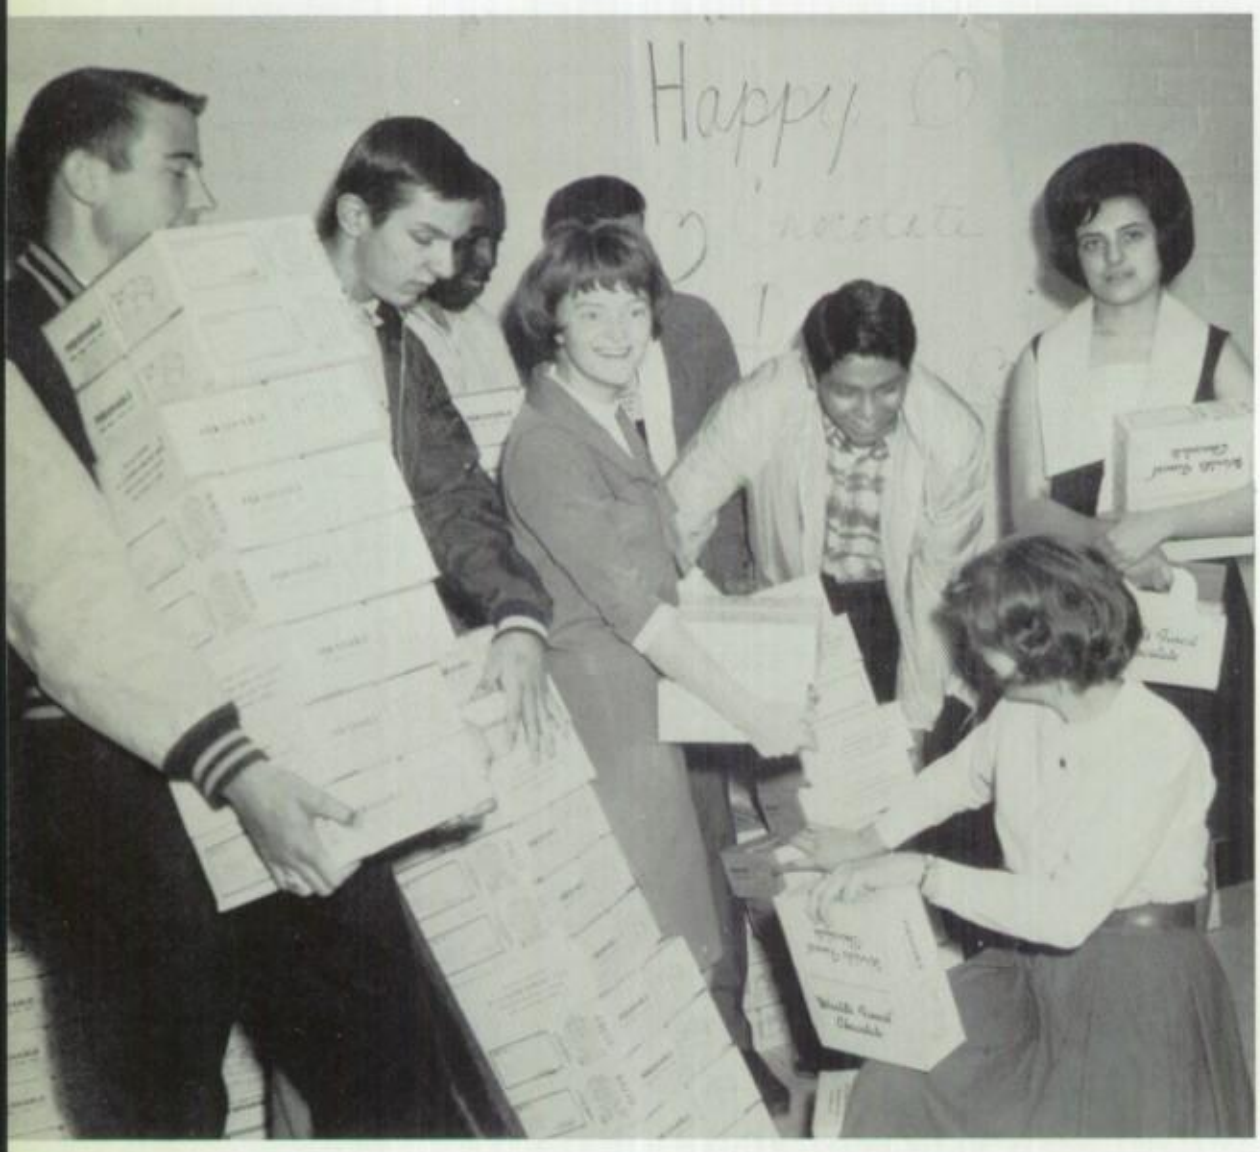
Winning Streak Sweeps Into Fourth Year

King of Hearts, Dennis McDougal, waits expectantly as Senior Class President Jim Thomson triumphantly crowns a smiling Cand Atkinson, Queen of Hearts.



Capturing an unprecedented fourth consec tive victory, the class of '65 led the school the $20,000 goal in the 1965 chocolate drive.

Following the Seniors, who achieved 86 of their quota, were the Sophomores who nett 79%. The Juniors were third with 75%, a in last place were the Freshmen with 70%.

Leading the school's sales were Rosalie Mea more, Paul Thurmin, Bill Lavor, Pat Steffe and Jo Ann Kesicki.

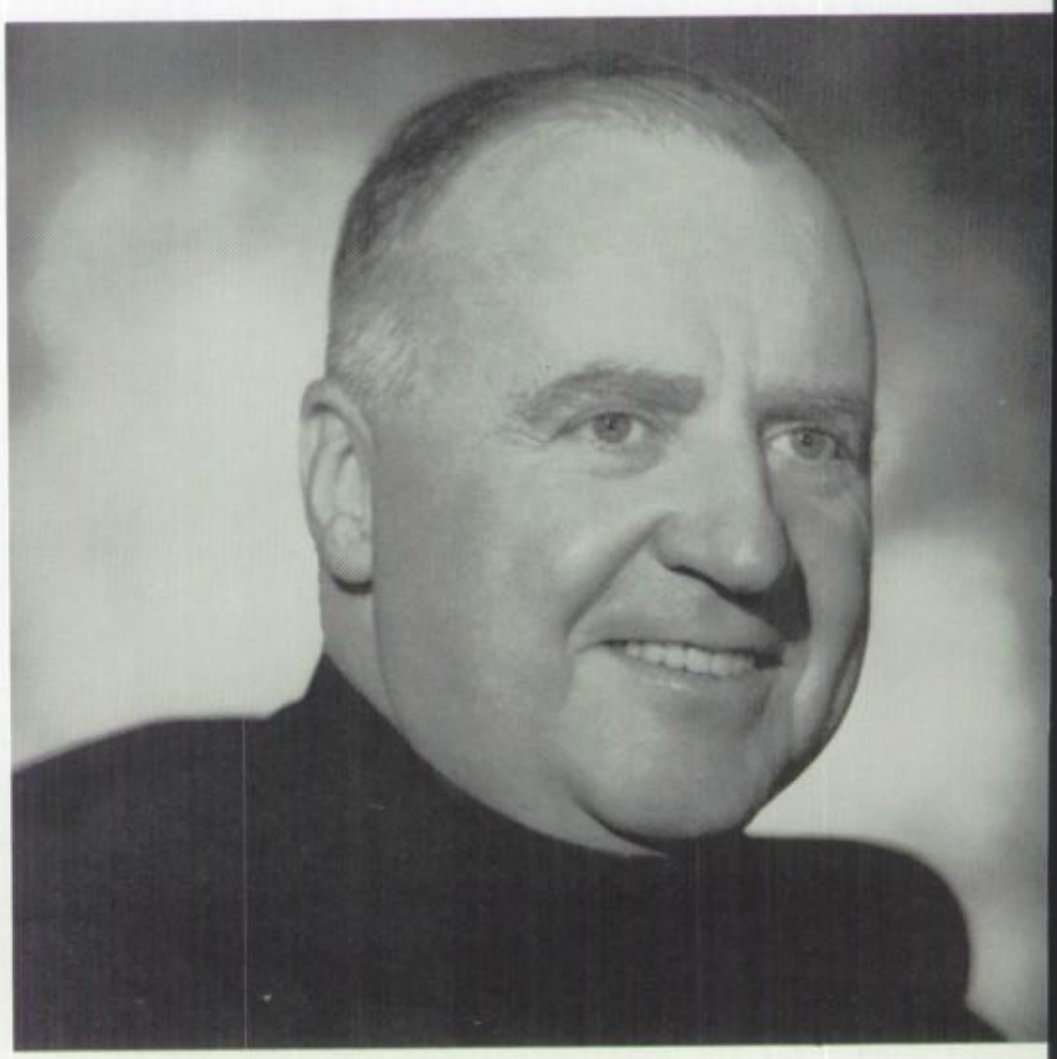
Seldom heard but well known at Salpointe is the name of Father Brendan Gilmore, O. Carm.

Assigned for a year to Sacred Heart Parish in Tucson, Father Brendan was transferred to Chicago when first elected as Prior Provincial of the Carmelite order.

Re-elected in 1963, Father Bonaventure's brother maintains an indirect interest in the organization of Salpointe by supplying needed teachers.



Father Bonaventure Subtly Molds Students' Academic, Patriotic Ideals

Father Bonaventure's office: Salpointe's nerve center. As principal, Father supervises all departments, working closely with their directors. Before the school year opens, Father hires teachers and establishes the curriculum and textbooks. Months in advance, he maps out the schedules of extracurricular events to be printed in the school calendar. Included in his busy agenda is the task of issuing comprehensive reports of teachers' credentials, classes, and other pertinent information to accrediting agencies.

Aside from his duties as principal, Father Bonaventure participates in the Youth and Work Forum which obtains employment for high school drop-outs. To help alleviate the financial deficit, Father Bonaventure has personally raised $32,000 in the past six years through the Educational Fund.

Deans Stress Moral, Educational Values

Dean of Men—Besides disciplining and counseling boys, Father Randal enforces school regulations for everyone. In charge of promotions, a new job for him, he organizes the Magazine and Chocolate Drives. Father moderates the hall monitors, too. As well as teaching senior girls religion, he consults with girls about their college plans and scholarship opportunities.

Dean of Women—Sister Julia Teresa guides Salpointe girls, and in this capacity she created a Girls' Committee, consisting of representatives from each class This group provides the dean with a personal link with Salpointe's feminine population. To prepare them for future careers, Sister advises girls on their best academic choice of a curriculum.

Dean of Studies—Father Fidelis' principal task consists of scheduling classes for the entire student body and adjusting these schedules as the need arises. Father also directs the college guidance program; and by organizing College Day and Rotary Conferences, he affords students the opportunity to gain firsthand knowledge of careers.

With a quick call to the Rotary Club, Father Fidelis arranges a career conference for Salpointer seeking college guidance.

Latin Adopts Linguistic Approach of Spanish

Tapes and records implement a linguistic approach introduced to this year's Latin I students. Armed with a grammatical foundation, Latin II members attack Caesar. Vergil's Aeneid reveals the language's beauty in the combined Latin III and Latin IV class.

As a second language, Spanish is more popular than Latin, due possibly to the proximity of Mexico. The Spanish student begins by learning simple dialogues and proceeds to grammar in second year. By third year, he is equipped to read more difficult passages and by fourth year he can critically analyze Spanish novels.

In studying current affairs and history, Salpointe students discover the mysteries of the past and the intrigues of the present. This year, in order to better understand citizenship, the Senior American Problems classes sponsored a Mock Election complete with speeches and last minute calls to the polls.

Voting, however, is but one aspect of the responsibilities of today's citizens. In preparation for solving international crises, Juniors pursue the past course of solutions for dissensions within the American nation. Freshmen explore centuries of foundation, traveling from past to present in world history.

Student Curiosity

Students study science this year using a new experimental method. Probing deep into the cell, Sophomores explore the mysteries of non-living substances, and, employing new texts in a molecular approach to biology, they examine the microscopic elements fundamental to plant, animal, and human existence.

Juniors established a new precedent this year, studying chemistry before physics, while only twenty-five junior boys probe the laws of physics. Because of added students, the explosive bursts of chemistry experimentations are heard continuously from 7:30 a.m.

Reaching from the depths of the ocean to the outer realms of space, physical science students gather essentials of all the sciences.

While Karen Gensler observes her technique, Judy Holbrook stains a slide with a few drops of venetian violet in Biology.

Knowledge Graphically Expressed Through Manual Training

Vocational Arts play an important role in today's mechanical world. Salpointe's Gerke School of Industrial Arts offers photography, electricity, printing, drafting, woodworking, and metals. The knowledge which students acquire during the year enlarges their opportunity for future employment; however, many students enroll for the sole purpose of acquiring a mastery of crafts.

Designed for a general or a specific education, the program offers a maximum of three years in a specialized field.

Priests and lay teachers alike provide qualified staff guidance to shop students while the school itself furnishes adequate facilities for training.

Illogical persons are despised.

Seemingly only garbled thoughts, these lines form an integral part of the revolutionary methods being used in math courses this year. Practical math, Algebra I and II, contemporary and analytical geometry, and trigonometry utilize new textbooks, emphasizing greater understanding of mathematical procedures and the logic of accepted formulas.

All instructors employ this new policy in freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes to meet the demands of a greatly modernized world.

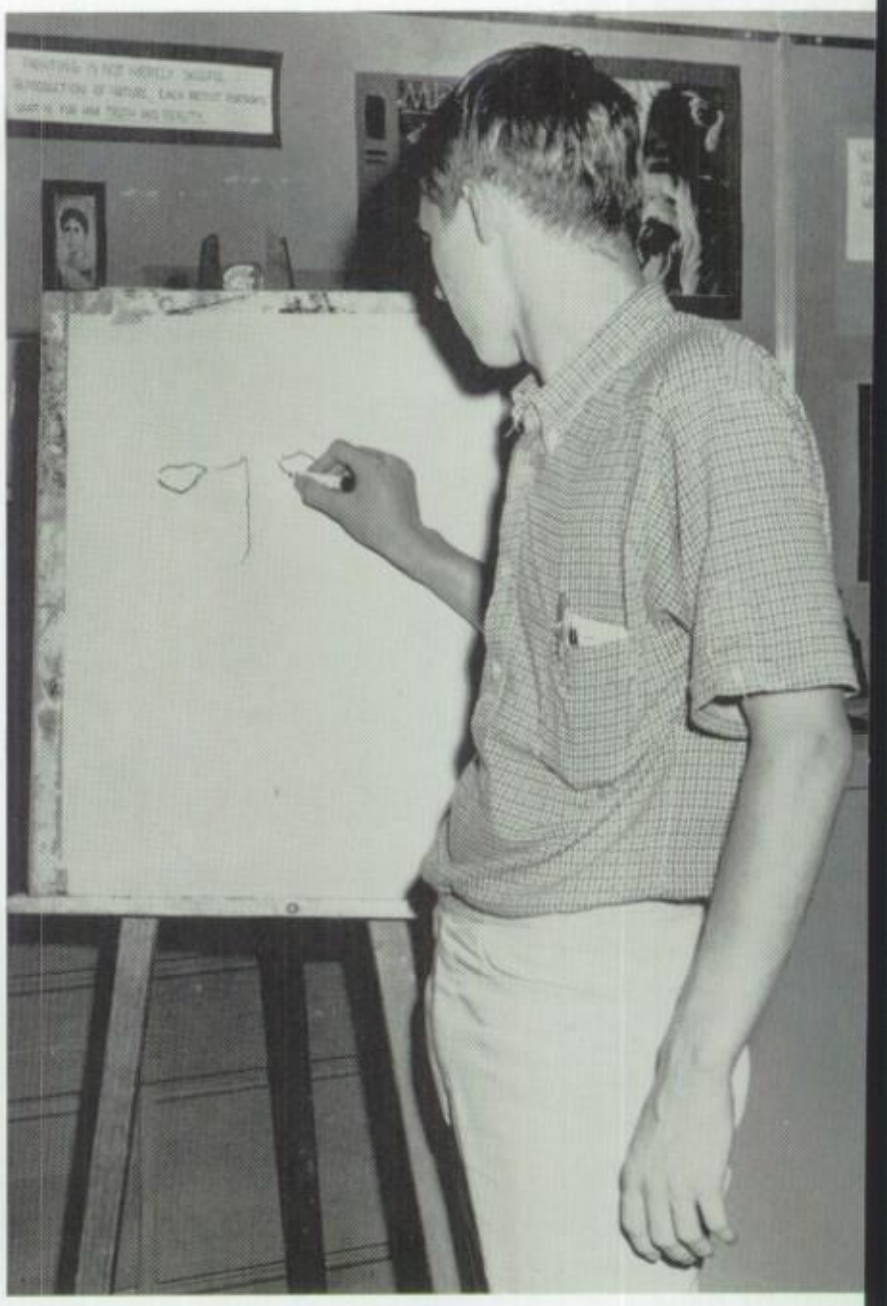
Budding Freshman artists concentrate on basic fundamentals and the techniques of established artists.

Applying concepts mastered in previous years, art majors project a renovation of the school chapel including the addition of new objects d'art such as bent-wire Stations of the Cross and mosaics of the Blessed Virgin Mary and of Saint Joseph. Stained glass windows, fashioned and produced by students, will grace the east wall and give a new dimension to our own House of Worship.

Whether in designing, drawing, or painting, new experimentation in style and color denote the theme of art classes and endeavors this year.



"All masterpieces evolve from simple lines," assures Jol Schneider as he demonstrates concepts of art to classmate

Past Traditions, Future Ingenuity Throb in Council

Executive officers, class presidents, delegates, and representatives compose an active, progressive student government at Salpointe. Whether supporting Tucson's Student Progress Organization, arranging the Queen of Courts activities, or collecting Christmas boxes for the Pio Decimo Center, they display the Salpointe brand of enthusiasm.

Special projects this year included efforts to replace a tree in the South Patio and a competitive carwash whose profits were directed to the J.F.K. Memorial Library.

Each of these endeavors reflects the prime purpose of the Student Council—to link faculty and students in harmony.

Quill & Scroll Kindles Fire of Journalistic Truth

From Truth Fred Sayre lights the candle of learning at the Quill and Scroll ceremony.

"Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make ye free."

Forty-five Quill and Scroll inductees echo this motto verbally in the annual candlelight ceremony and silently in the wealth of literary materials which they produce. As an organization, the Quill and Scroll performs no function or activity. Instead, as individuals contributing to school newspapers and yearbooks, or city publications, the members entwine ideals of truth and integrity into their varied literary pieces. So the aims of the whole are achieved by the enterprise of the individual.

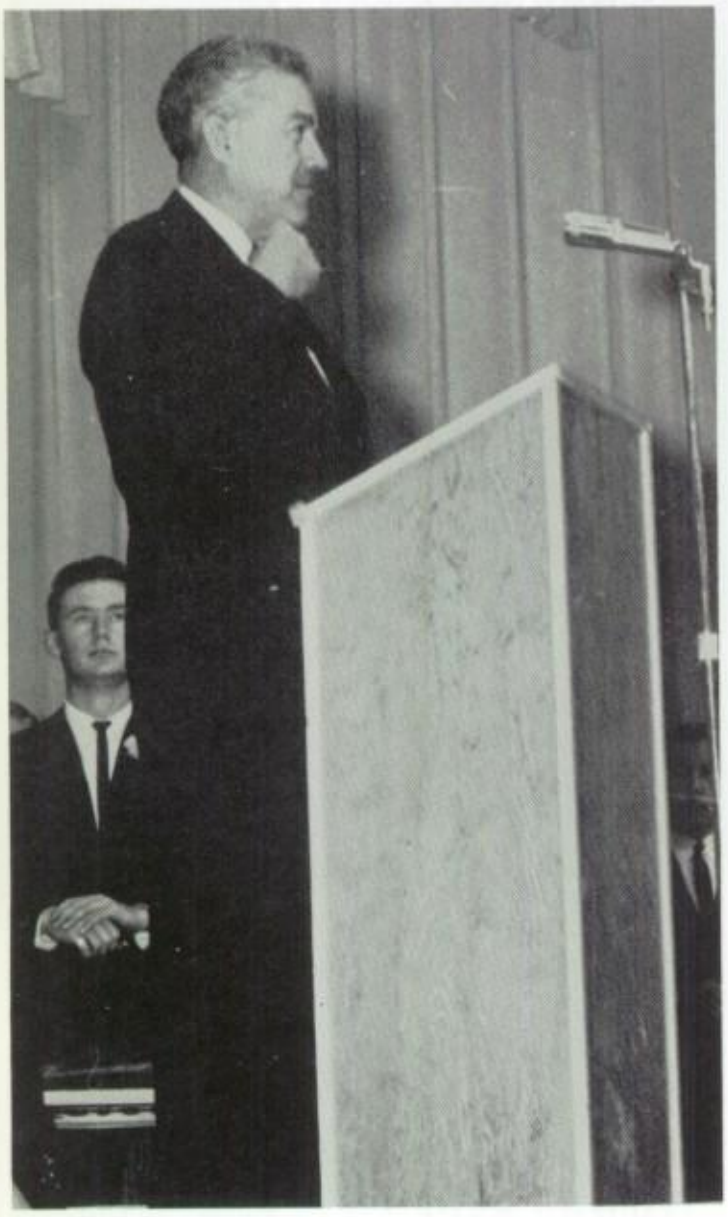
Honor Society Sculpts Responsible Citizens

"Membership in the NHS is the greatest honor Salpointe bestows upon scholars," sa
Fr. Bonaventure to Ronnie Pawloski.



Education's value to youth was stressed in Dr. Roy's address at the NHS induction ceremony.

The sound of scholarship is scratching pen on paper, whispered mumblings committed to memory.

Character's voice is low but firm; it echoes the purpose of conviction.

Loud and roaring, pointing out the road of right, the herald of leadership bellows its message.

And service is silent—for it acts.

These qualities of scholarship, character, leadership, and service determine eligibility in the National Honor Society. A tutoring service, ushering, a book exchange, and an annual induction ceremony compose the club's rostrum of activities, and reflect the integrity of the membership.

"I pledge myself to uphold the high standards of the National Honor Society to which I have been elected; I will be true to the principles for which it stands; I will be loyal at all times to my school; and I will maintain and encourage high standards of Scholarship, Character, Leadership, and Service", recite members of the NHS during the induction ceremony.

Clakety-clack—whirr—ringg—slam! So the day goes in one of the busiest offices at Salpointe. People rush in and out, typewritten pages are dropped on an already cluttered desk, terse orders are given and received—this organized chaos leads to the publication once every three weeks of the school's recently revamped newspaper, THE CRUSADER.

Current activities of special interest to the student body keynote the type of stories printed under the editorship of Mike Chihak.

New staff advisers Sister Brigid Marie and Sister Mary Seton secure interesting, informative articles which are incorporated into a unique format by diligent staff members.

Student Journalists Scoop City, Publish LANCER

Keeping the Tucson public informed of the mountain activities and services performed by Salpointe or- nizations and individuals means meeting a weekly adline for the students who staff the city periodicals. The morning STAR carries high school news each iday in the form of articles by student journalists and a column of random interviews of representatives m each of Tucson's many high schools.

Wednesday evenings, pictures and descriptions of recent happenings can be found in the weekly edition of the Teen Citizen. Aside from public service value, work- ing for the news agencies affords aspiring journalists such as editors Marla Perry, Beth Bergschneider, and Oscar Montano a chance to acquire invaluable experi- ence in the art of reporting.

As the boys protect our rules of order, the girls maintain high standards in our dress regulations. Advising the Dean of Girls on current fashions, representatives from each homeroom form a Girls Committee to encourage ideals combining modesty and style.

Lay Apostles Assist Priests Locally, Abroad

Lighting the candles, Knights of the Altar David Schaller and Mike Ostapuk prepare the altar for the daily celebration of the Mass.

Salpointe's singularity lies in its organization as a Catholic institution.

Serving daily or First Friday Mass, the Knights, under the supervision of Brother Herman, perform an invaluable service to Salpointers.

To assure the setting up of vestments and Mass materials, Chairman Ann Richardson delegates various duties to sacristans advised by Sister Helen Vincent.

Finally, Salpointe students, conscious of world poverty, contribute funds destined for international missions.

With unexpected generosity, David Tang contributes to the missions as John Chavez collects weekly donations in Father Leo's fourth period religion class.

Providing a neat and orderly altar, Sacristans Joan Shidisky and Ann Richardson position missal and cruets for Mass in the Chapel.

Students of the Month

Honored in the first few months of school were Herbie Jones, Kathi McLaughlin and Mike Urbanski, outstanding students in their class

Honor and acclamation abound at Salpointe where students need not be sports stars or prom queens to receive recognition. In order to provide acknowledgement for efforts in any and all aspects of school life, one individual is periodically named Student of the Month. So honored this year were: Herbie Jones—Football; Mary Jo Stewart—Senior Delegate; Mike Urbanski—Athletics and Council; and Kathi McLaughlin—School Activities.

In each of the four classes one candidate is selecte by the homerooms. The names of these four nomine and a list of their qualifications are presented to a Stude Council committee. This group, which is composed two representatives from each class, then makes t final decision, naming the Student of the Month. At t end of the year a Student of the Year is chosen by t Student Council.

Independence Day, Labor Day, Memorial Day—often, looking back helps in planning ahead. At Salpointe, we wish to prepare for our future as responsible citizens. For this reason, an annual "I Am An American Day" has been initiated.

This year's ceremonies were unique in the contest's five year history. Two speakers from each of the four classes discussed the same topic—"The Challenge of Citizenship." The Glee Club sang "Give Me Your Tir Your Poor." Equally new and equally stirring were t performances of the Speech Department's choral readi group and Father Urban's band which played the Ci War Rhapsody.

Perhaps more than at any other time the purpose American Day was fulfilled this year.

Rincon. Salpointe blended three goal line stands th a 13 yard run to down defending AA-4 champn Rincon, 7-0.

The host Lancers struck quickly on Randy Wool-s 13 yard touchdown run. However, with 29 conds left, Rincon had first and ten on the Lancer n.

Four plays and minus 14 yards later, Skip Papakolas crashed Rincon's quarterback Larry Kelsey the turf, ending Rincon's winning hopes.

Palo Verde. The Titans did a fine job of entertaining Salpointe who had little trouble taking their urth straight, 20-6.

Fullback Herbie Jones crashed for two scores hile Alex Gonzales filched a misguided pass and ok it 16 yards for a score.

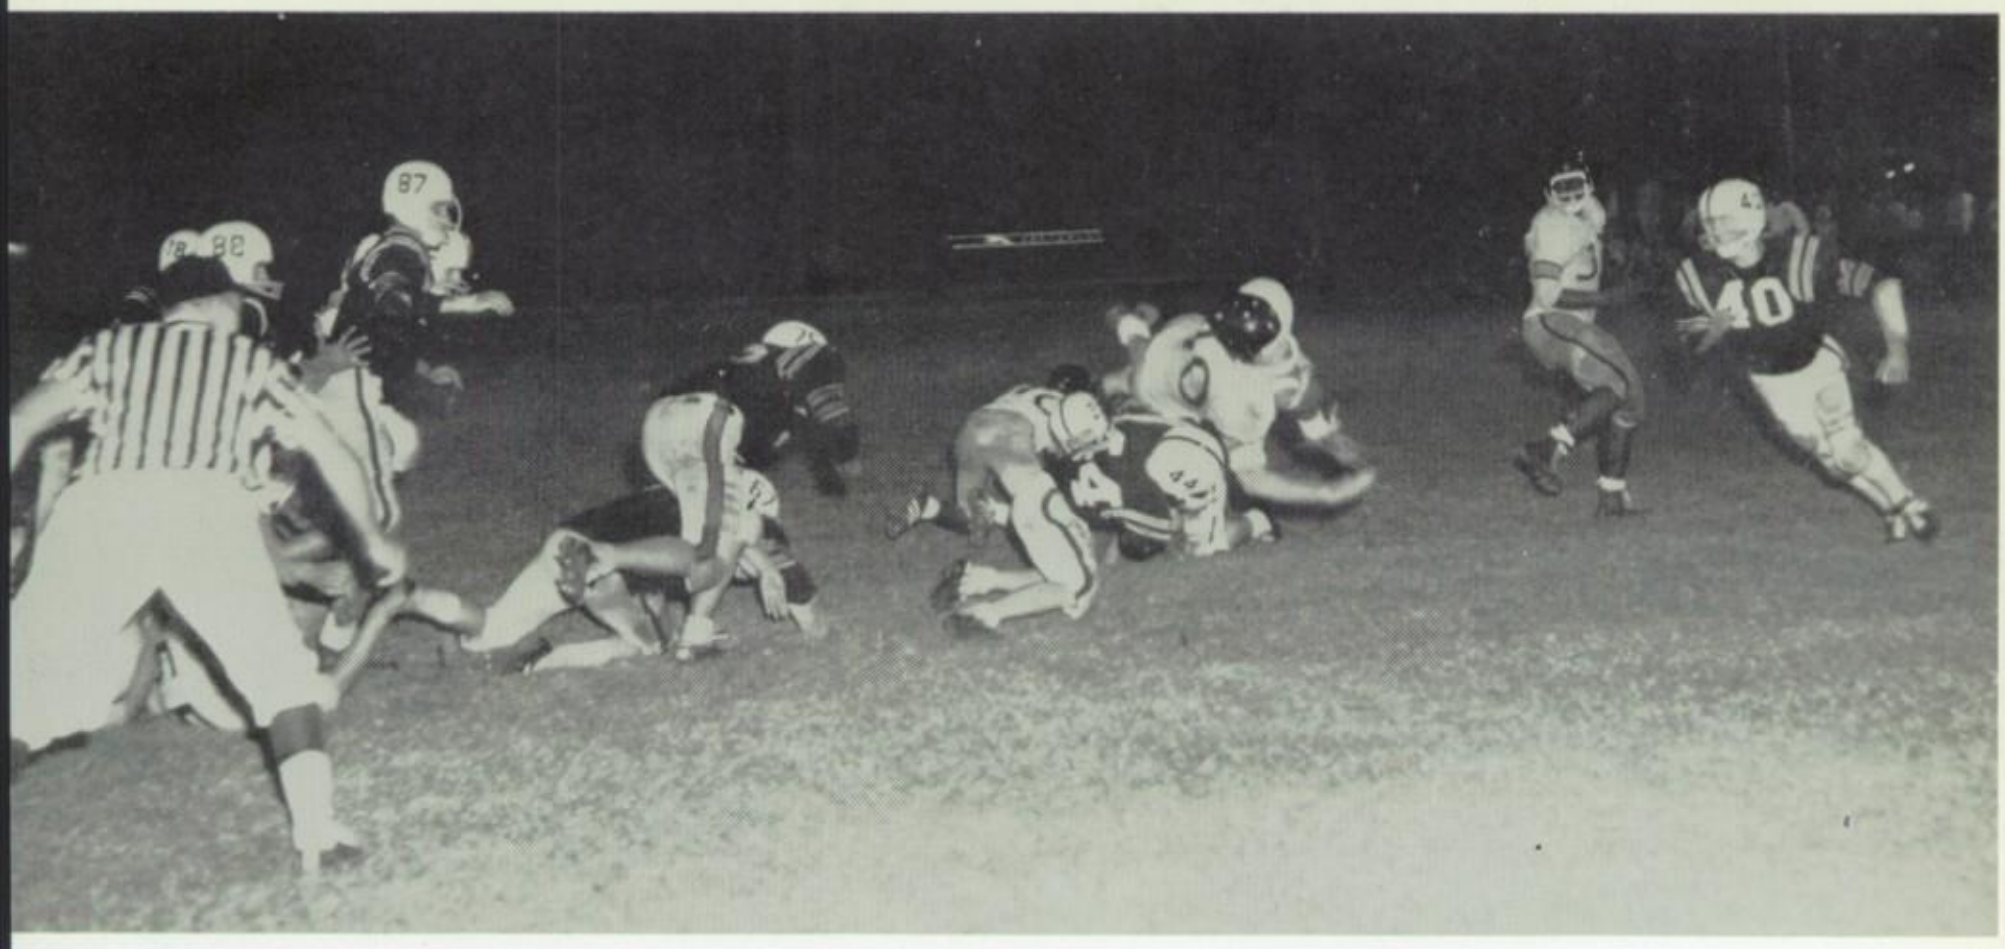
Pleasing a Homecoming crowd of 7543, Salpointe defeated Tucson High, 14-13. Salpointe drew first blood with a four yard run by Herbie Jones. Tucson retaliated during the second quarter, but was held at the one yard line. Two second-half touchdowns by Warren Moore and Jimmy Ellis put THS ahead, 13-7, late in the fourth quarter.

With 80 yards to go and 1:29 left, Cyril Shettleroe moved the offense upfield with side line passes and timely rollouts. On third down Cyril rolled right and fired a 21 yard T.D. pass to John Henry Willsey. Jim McAndrew's conversion did in the Badgers for the first time in ten years.

Ten years of frustration ends as Jim McAndrew splits the uprights for the game winning point.



Salpointe's third score is registered as Pat DeJonghe (40) vaults the Cortez defense.

Cortez. A second half splurge led Salpointe to a 19-6 victory at Cortez. Bottled up for the first half, the Lancers capitalized on two fumbles with two scores by Randy Wooley and Herbie Jones. Herbie had one of his best nights of the season, racking up 180 yards on 33 carries.

Douglas. Salpointe was rude with its guest, burying the Bulldogs deeper in the cellar, 41-14. Herbie Jones, Randy Wooley, and Mike Wolfe zipped for scores of 70, 68, and 33 yards. Herbie added three more from close-in, as the Lancers built up their highest score this year.

Pueblo, Catalina Fall as Season Nears End

Salpointe's balanced offense meant a divisional championship as the Lancers stopped Pueblo, 28-0.

Herbie Jones' inside runs and Randy Wooley's end sweeps set up Cyril Shettleroe's passing. Lancer defense kept Pueblo from entering Lancer territory and held them to 4 first downs.

Catalina's dream for an upset turned into a nightmare as the Lancers put-it-to-'em 26-0. Alex Gonzalez' 40-yard run T.D. run with an interception put the Trojans behind and the Lancer defense kept them behind throughout the contest.

Fancy passing was more than a passing fancy with the Junior Varsity this year. Coaches Ocvirek and Piet's decision to put some flair in the offense worked as the Lancers finished second to unbeaten Tucson.

Rick Melead, one of the key players, put the ball in the air 81 times with 51 completions for 13 T.D.'s. Other outstanding players were Al Benki, Mike Ronstadt, Pat Sheehy, and Harry Barnes.

Allen Hennessy (6-2), 139 lb., however, made it to the semi-finals, along with Frank Kitt (4-4), 95 lb., and Don Bossert (5-3), in the heavyweight class. Mike Mulvihill (5-3), 112 lb., also provided reserve strength in his first varsity competition.

After suffering a one point setback to Sunnyside, Salpointe's cross country team legged past seven league opponents and ran off with the "Turkey Day Run" symbol of city supremacy.

Led by senior Charlie Brackney, the Lancer harriers placed five men in the top twenty of the Turkey Run at Estevan Park to tie with Pueblo. However, an earlier season triumph over the Warriors gave Salpointe the city Championship. The following week, in Phoenix, Salpointe came in fourth, the highest place earned by a Tucson team.

Five seniors paced Salpointe this year. Charlie Brackney finished his fourth year of varsity competition by placing in the top three of every race agai city opponents.

Backing him up effectively were Bill Lavor, Jo Roll, Gene Adams and Kevin McBride. Dave Sch ler was the team's source of inspiration with determination and consistency. Maturing quic to become valuable assets to the Lancer squad w Leonard Sweeney and Joe Sheehey.

Coach Gleeson used these runners effectively bringing the city championship to Salpointe. It the first team since 1957 to capture a city champ ship.

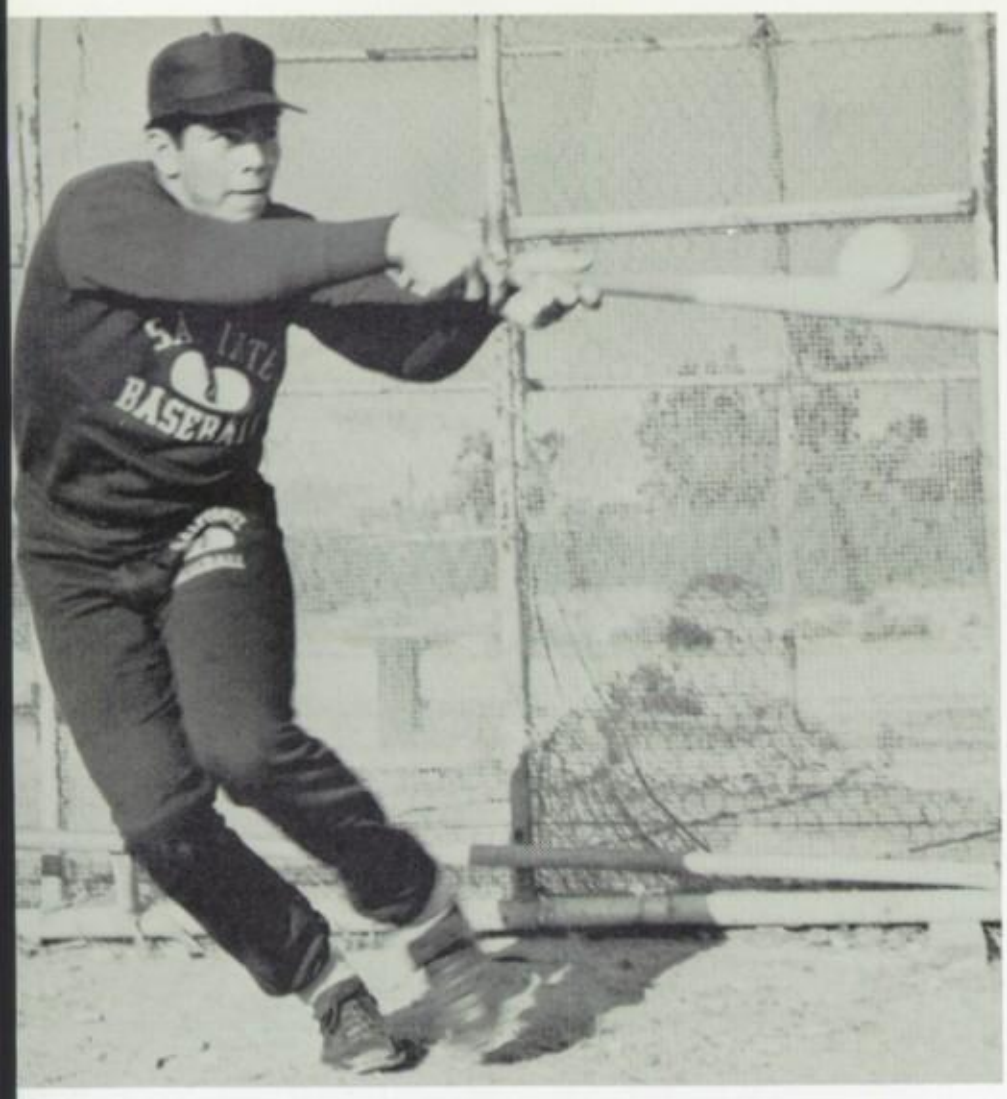
Stroking the air, Jim Travis shows Dennis McDougal what not to do Spring training practice.

The lack of one pitcher kept Salpointe from rushing to second place last year. With sound pitching and good defense, the Lancers kept very much in the race until the final two weeks, when, without a pitching substitute for Larry Brazaskas, Salpointe dropped five straight and bowed out of title contention with a 9-11 record. Key losses leave this year's squad a big question mark.

The most significant problem facing Coach Gleason's ball club is filling his depleted pitching staff. Danny Mejia, (3-1, 1.97 ERA), is the only member with experience. Junior Varsity Hurlers Rick Melead, Rich Gallegos and Steve Hudson are up for a shot at starting assignments. Newcomer Mike Wolfe appears to have all the tools for making a contribution to the team.

The outfield seems set and strong. Pete Sanchez, (.329), an American Legion All-Star, is set at left field, as is sparkplug Bobby Gomez, (.333), who leads off and holds down right field. Dennis Mc-

Strengthening of Moundsmen Necessary



Laying one down, Pete Sanchez perfects technique.

Dougal roams centerfield and, though a strong fielder, must improve his batting to make his presence at the plate effective.

If his lusty hitting continues, Jim Travis seems set at third. A quicker glove could make Jim a star. Shortstop is up for grabs between J.V.'s Rene Hurley and Bob Donnelly. Gary Heintz, a squadman from last year, figures to hold down second base despite a challenge from Rick Melead. A real dog fight looms at first between J.V. Bob Suedkamp and freshman flash John Juergensmeyer. A strong first team could bring the pennant here. Because of the early deadline, this season's results cannot be published.

Dennis McDougal tracks one down from centerfield position.

Salpointe track fortunes are looking up under Coach Ed Lucz. With apparent strength in the hurdles, long distances, shot put, discus and high jump, Lancer spikers figure to make their presence felt. Heading the contingent are Pat DeJonghe in the low hurdles, Randy Wooley and Mike Nichols in the highs, while Randy appears set for improvement at high jump.

The Barcelo brothers, Cosme and Rudy, dominate the pole vault picture while Charlie Brackney, with his gang of Gene Adams, Len Sweeney, Bill Lavor, and Freddy Elias look forward to ending impressively their distance careers. Dave Watkins in the discus and Gilbert Garcia in the shot put are gunning for improvement. School Records: High hurdles: T. Nichols, P. DeJonghe 15.5; 440 yd. relay: C. Whilemy, J. Fishman 44.3; D. With a predominately junior squad, the 1964 Salpointe golf team came within one stroke of the state championship. Under the direction of Coach Potts, the golf team figures to improve last year's record of 7-3.

Big gun for the Lancers is Cyril Shettleroe, Tucson open-contestant, Junior amateur winner, and winner of various amateur matches in town. John Culler followed closely in collecting awards, and teamed together, they make the strongest 1-2 combo in the city, possibly the state. Finishing off the top five are Bill Steen, Jerry Quesnel, and Sam Samaniego.

Seniors Set Tone for Victorious Year

Tossing away the cares of high school, Seniors Dennis McDougal, Kim Maloney, Frank Melone, and Rebecca Vonderheide, exult joyo at thought of new freedom. After four years crowded with studies, sports and spirit, the Class of '65 triumphs at graduation.

Led by President and Delegate, Jimmy Thomson and Mary Jo Stewart, Seniors forged ahead under a banner of red and blue to achieve a host of accomplishments. Whether participating in magazine competition or football games, the class exhibited a spirit paralleled only by their enjoyment of privileges such as Frosh initiati off-campus, and coffee break. And when the noise a clamor have come and gone, and the last Senior vanished from the campus, the spirit of the Class of will live on in the halls and history of Salpointe.

Grape juice in any other bottle still tastes like grape juice. To this Junior and Senior students of Vergil's Aeneid enthusiastically agree during the poet's 2034th birthday party. Whooping it up in grand style, the participants of the Roman Orgy-Hootenanny drink toasts to the author's health.

Sophs Jubilant Over Future Role as Upperclassmen

Recognizing their status as "non-freshmen", Sophomores play roles in Salpointe leadership, activities, and classes. President Pat Boulay, advised by Sister Mary Mark, is the voice of the sophomore class to the school. Pam Lane, Delegate, acts as his secretary and chief spirit-booster. Both leaders worked with the Class of '67 on the "Witch Twitch" and the Student Council picnic, as well as in school drives.

Intriguing subjects challenge sophomores. The mysteries of RNA and DNA, the complexities of axes and spheres, and the attitudes and techniques of driving are introduced to them this year.

"It's been a hard day's night . . .", serenades Paul as fellow Beatles triumphantly transport him on the strength of smashing sales.

Freshmen Face Expanding Responsibilities

Sights and sounds in a kaleidoscopic whirl of color greet the incoming Freshmen at Salpointe. As they work, play and become familiar with the ideals and traditions of the school, they develop into well-rounded individuals, the future leaders of the school.

From studying quietly to cheering wildly at games and assemblies, from the clamor of initiation to the soft music of after-game dances, they follow the footsteps of their president, Joe Leslie, and Delegate Mary Sweeney. Sister Mary Seton, class moderator, keeps a watchful eye on freshman activities.

"Oh no, not another . . .", an added book muffles the cry of a muscular Freshman, while Adriana Arriaga enumerates the myriad ta he will gladly perform during initiation: push pencil with his nose, imitate a dead cockroach, and propose to his favorite teacher.

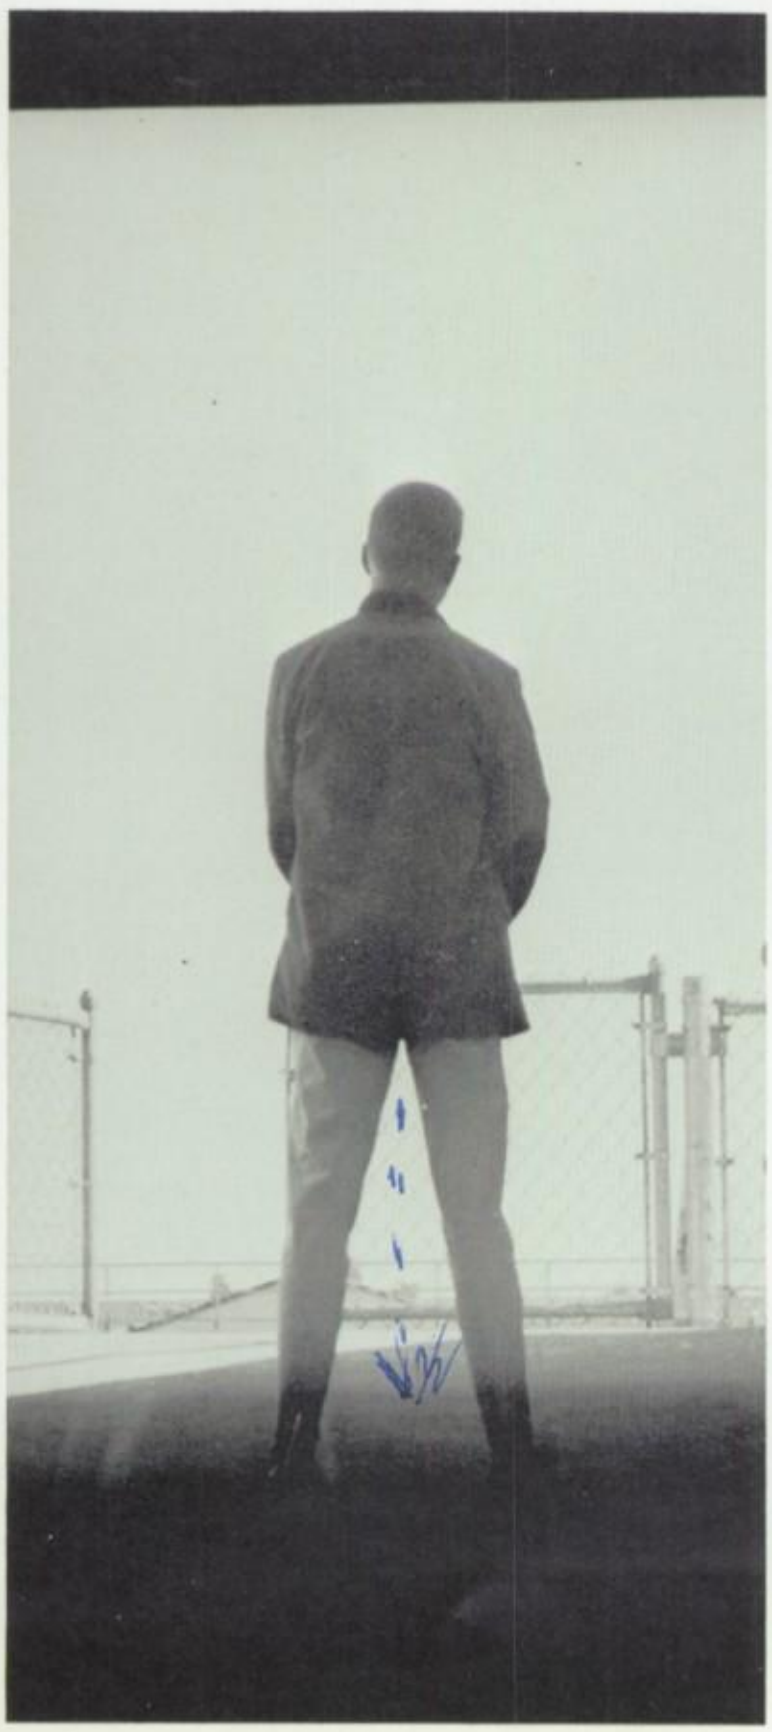
SOUNDS WILL DIM . . .

. . . BUT NEVER DIE



Lancers and Lasses came, and they brought their Life and Laughter, and they made these the Sounds of Salpointe.

Pulsating throughout exasperated tears, exuberant triumphs, eternal traditions fused with the firm wisdom of administration and the friendly guidance of faculty.

Now, a deserted classroom testifies to trying Labors and Lessons . . . A lonely stadium remembers hearty Cheers and Challenges . . . An inspiring chapel reflects undying Service and Spirit . . .

The lights darken, the sounds fade, and until another time there lives only silence—the spirit of sound.
